Companion to Baptist Hymnal - William Jensen Reynolds 1976

The Baptist Hymnal - William Howard Doane 1883

While many hymnals today present the setting of a hymn text with a single tune, it was common practice in the 19th century to use a variety of tunes with any given text. This hymnal, printed for the use of Baptist churches, presents the most common tune for hymns at the top of the page with alternate choices printed below the text. Many compositions by famed hymnodist Fanny Crosby are included in this volume of 727 hymn texts and tunes.

The Sound of the Dove - Beverly Bush Patterson 1995

In The Sound of the Dove, Beverly Bush Patterson explores one of the oldest traditions of American religious folksong, a national heritage of great beauty and dignity that remains vital in the lives and worship of predestinarian Primitive Baptists in the southern mountains. This unaccompanied and frequently unharmonized congregational singing challenges our assumptions about creativity, aesthetics, meaning, and identity. Patterson's revealing study incorporates interviews, field observations, historical research, song transcriptions, and musical analysis. She uses seventeenth-century English documents to trace historical antecedents of Primitive Baptist singing and to frame her discussion of religious belief and gender roles as they intersect with singing. One chapter is devoted to the role of women in this church.

Baptist authors and composers have provided songs that have made an impact not only among Baptists in America but also across denominational and geographic lines. Congregational singing continues to be a key component of Baptist worship in the twenty-first century.

The Myers Park Baptist Church Hymnal

(Classic Reprint) - Myers Park Baptist Church
2017-12-24

Excerpt from The Myers Park Baptist Church Hymnal In 1988 in an attempt to express that message in the distinctive tradition of the Myers Park Baptist Church, the then-senior - minister, Dr. R. Eugene Owens, asked the Board of Worship and the Board of Deacons to appoint a task force to review the 1933 Presbyterian Hymnal used since 1952 by the church, and to consider what additional hymn resources may be needed to enhance the worship of God in this place. The task force carefully studied the 1933 hymnal and dozens of other hymnals and hymnal supplements produced in the past sixty years by both denominational and non-denominational publishers. The task force concluded that no single publication quite embodied the theological, devotional, and liturgical life of our particular community. Often, the hymnals contained language that was either doctrinally specific for a particular denomination, or included hymns in languages for particular ethnic communities, or did not express adequately the theological and cultural life of our congregation. Moreover, the wedding of music and text sometimes fell short of what we wanted for congregational worship. After much serious discussion of all these issues, the task force concluded we needed a hymnal reflecting this community's specific historical, theological, and liturgical traditions. This meant not only retaining the familiar hymns of the 1933 hymnal but also reclaiming some hymns not in that hymnal which Baptists and other Christians have considered important faith expressions for generations. As the writing of hymns is a dynamic art that continues to this day, the task force also considered hundreds of hymns written before and since 1933 for inclusion in the present hymnal. In the end, what guided the creation of this hymnal was a prayerful commitment to provide a rich variety of faith expressions for this Christian community to sing to the glory of God. About the Publisher

The Merton Tune-Book - Henry Walter
Sargent 2018-01-21

Excerpt from The Merton Tune-Book: A Collection of Hymns and Tunes Used in the Church of St. John Baptist, Oxford This Collection owes its existence to the difficulty I experienced some years ago in finding Tunes of a good ecclesiastical kind suited to the Hymnal used in my Church. Having searched in vain for a tune-book fit for my purpose I determined to form one of my own; I therefore examined all the tune-books, both English and Foreign, to which I could obtain access, and the Collection now published is the result. Although it has not been my object to form a large miscellaneous Collection, yet I believe the Tunes will be found numerous and varied enough to meet the requirements of most other Hymnals now in use. It appeared to me that, in former tune-books, sufficient care had not been taken to secure agreement between the sentiment of the Hymn and its Music. I have endeavoured as much as possible to avoid this defect. How far I have been successful, can only be determined by a reference to the Hymnal to which the Tunes have been adapted. Wishing the book to be useful for Parish Choirs, I have also been careful to. Choose only such Tunes as are within an ordinary compass of voice, and present no peculiar difficulties in the several parts of the Harmony. My friend the Rev. Dr. Hayne undertook the arrangement and editing of the Tunes. To his skill and taste I am wholly indebted for the performance of this irksome and difficult task, and I cannot be too grateful to him for the Me and care he has bestowed upon the work of preparing it for the press. It now only remains for me to express my acknowledgments to those Gentlemen, by whose courtesy I have been enabled to enrich this Collection with many beautiful Tunes of which they hold the-copyright. The Baptist Hymnal for Use in the Church and Home - Lance J. Peeler 2010

The Baptist Hymnal for Use in the Church and Home of 1883 is a significant hymnal for Baptists in the United States, as it was the first major hymnal after the split of the Triennial Convention in 1845 to bring together Baptists from all over the country in its production. It was an ecumenically broad hymnal, incorporating theological viewpoints from many different Baptists, as well as providing both a familiar and a new tune for most of its hymns. The editor-in-chief, William Howard Doane, was well-known as a Sunday school and gospel music composer. His expertise brought this music into the hymnal, making it one of the first major denominational hymnals to include it. The assistant musical editor, Elias Henry Johnson, was a lover of the high church music of the Oxford Movement, and his influence meant that the hymnal also included much of this body of music. The Baptist Hymnal (1883) was well-received in the denominational presses, with almost universally positive reviews. It sold well, with claims of sales of around a million copies repeated over several years. It had an immense influence on Baptist hymnals published after it by the Northern and Southern Baptist conventions, the Canadian Baptists, and the African American Baptist conventions. It was still in use by some churches in a 1938 report on music in the Southern Baptist churches, and continues to be used, especially in Primitive Baptist churches, today. This hymnal is also important for its view into Baptist worship practices of the time. The hymns appearing in the hymnal were chosen by five or more of the participating editors. This method of choosing hymns means that it gives a good record of the hymns that Baptists were singing in the latter nineteenth century. This in-depth study of the hymnal provides insight into nineteenth century Baptist worship. - Publisher.

The Baptist Hymnal - E. H. Johnson 2015-07-16
Excerpt from The Baptist Hymnal: For Use in the Church and Home The design Of those concerned in the preparation Of the baptist hymnal, has been to furnish the churches a book which shall aid in the worship of God, and so make the service Of His house more attractive and delightful. They have sought both in the selection Of Hymns, and in the choice and adaptation of music, to secure to God's people the best possible expression Of the praises, pleadings, and aspirations Of their hearts. By restricting the number of hymns to those which are believed to be all that are necessary, space has been found for a most liberal provision in music. A definite plan has controlled the selection, viz. About the Publisher Forgotten

Old School Hymnal - Bryce H. Lowrance
2021-05-25

From the song of Moses on the shore of the Red Sea, to the hymn at the close of our Lord's first communion, the singing of psalms, hymns and spiritual songs is an essential part of worship for God's people. In the wisdom of the Glorious Creator, God created man in his image, which included a voice - a uniquely human instrument capable of producing melody. And so, our Lord delights in worship with the voice of praise. From the psalms composed by David on the grassy hillsides of Bethlehem, to the thunderous chorus of "Holy! Holy! Holy!" offered by the seraphim in the throne room of heaven, expressions of singing in worship are evident. And notably, Zephaniah declared the Lord rejoices in singing Himself: "The LORD thy God in the midst of thee is mighty; he will save, he will rejoice over thee with joy; he will rest in his love, he will joy over thee with singing." (Zephaniah 3:17). Truly, God's people rejoice in songs of praise through the ages. By singing Psalms in the early church, in quiet whispers of praise in dens and caves of the earth during persecution, singing praises to our Lord endures. In recent centuries, times of revival and despair alike have sown seeds of creativity, and hymns of praise blossomed and bloomed. As such, visionary men like Elder Lee Hanks, saw fit to collect hymns, true to God's word in sentiment, and place them in hymnbook form to use in worship. To commemorate the 100th year of the Old School Hymnal, with hearts set on the glory of God, and enveloped by our rich history of worship in song, we the members of the newly restructured, non-profit Old School Hymnal Foundation Board, humbly present to you the Centennial Edition. In 1920, the founding members of the 1st edition presented a compilation of beloved hymns. In updating the hymnal, we prayerfully labored to honor their focus, endeavoring to maintain treasured, long-standing hymns, while also offering new compositions. We believe the Lord blessed us to remain true to scripture and honor Him with the words and melodies selected. In following the footsteps of our forefathers in hymnody, we echo the words of Elders Monsees and Pittman, in the preface to the 3rd edition, as we tried to include “the best old songs, and some of the new good ones...” In recent years, the Holy Spirit has blessed the creation of new hymns, born from the souls of redeemed children of God, moved and affected by the influence of grace. In honoring the spirit of past editions, and striving to obey the unction of the Holy Spirit, we are united in the desire to share some new songs. Having begun in the fall of 2019, and concluded in the midst of uncertain times, we believe a Providential blessing is in the timing of this effort. As unprecedented upheaval and abject fear prevails, we are compelled to present a point of light to push back against the darkness. While angry, dispirited voices reach a fever pitch, as the vitriolic squawk of malicious accusations command our attention, amidst the din of hard speeches and great swelling words, our prayer is that a different sound rises above the fray. In Christian homes, among congregations of Spirit-led worship, and from hearts of weary sinners, may songs of praise and voices of worship rise to adorn and adore the worthy name of Jesus. Accepting full responsibility for omissions, oversights and mistakes, and pleading for the mercy and blessing of God, we give to you this Centennial Edition, trusting the voice of praise will lift up to glorify our resurrected, reigning and returning Savior.
